WARRANTS AND TAXES

Government warrants, whether due or not, are receivable at the tax office in the payment of taxes at their face value.

Assessor Pratt says it does not seem to be very well understood by persons holding government warrants payable at a date in the future expressed on the warrant, that these warrants can be used for the payment of taxes without waiting for them to become payable at the treasury. In order to use them in the payment of taxes they must be properly endorsed. Many people, it is said who have warrants not yet payable are borrowing money on them, at a discount in order to pay their taxes, when, if they only knew it, they could pay their taxes with the warrants at their face value.

WANTED JONAH TO PAY.

A suit for $299 against Representative Jonah Kumalae for beer alleged to have been supplied to the Waiwaleu saloon by the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company, was before Judge Dickey yesterday. It was claimed that the beer had been supplied to Kumalae presumably for the saloon. The plaintiffs dismissed the action, as Kumalae had settled the case out of court.

The Only No Under Shadow

LIGHT

THERE'S NOTHING MISLEADING ABOUT THAT HEADING.

THE ANGLE LAMP

is, in its effect, exactly like sunlight. It is, like the sun, up out of the way, and throws its clear, enjoyable light both outward and downward with no bothersome shadows to annoy or to spoil the lighting effect. There's no other light does that—no other light that has

"NO-UNDER-SHADOW"

But don't stop at that; look at the other features too. With a minimum of expense, of trouble and of heat there is obtained a maximum of light and real satisfaction. Every annoying feature of gas, electricity, gasoline and acetylene is obviated. This tells the story of a great combination.

It uses ordinary kerosene (or coal) oil—one quart in sixteen hours. Its light is more brilliant than gas or electricity, with no more heat—no smoke—no odor—no "drawing up"—no removing of globe or top to light—filled while burning.
